

Mr. Shivkumar Prajapati has been employed with National Institute of Miners' Health (NIMH) since 2015. He is currently working as a Research Officer in the Occupational Hygiene laboratory of the institute. He has done his post-graduation in Chemistry from the Rashtrasant Tukadoji Maharaj (RTM), Nagpur University. He has previously worked in Jawaharlal Nehru Aluminium Research and Development Design Centre (JNARDDC), Nagpur as a Scientific Assistant-II where he was involved in the various research project related to aluminium electrolysis and handled various modern equipments like BET Surface area, TG/DSC analyser, Mercury porosity, Particle Size analyser, Thermal conductivity meter, Helium pycnometer and involved in various other consultancy projects.

Prior to joining JNARDDC, he was associated with National Environmental Engineering Research Institute (NEERI), Nagpur as a Project Fellow where he was involved in the various projects related to environmental monitoring and their assessment. Currently at NIMH, Shri Shivkumar Prajapati is involved in various occupational hygiene projects the institute undertakes at the various mines throughout India. He has participated in about 10 such dust, noise and vibration projects of the institute to-date. His other duties also involve qualitative and quantitative analysis of water. Currently he is pursuing Ph.D. from RTM, Nagpur University. He has also published four research papers national & international conference.